

Infraspec Company offers the absolutely new REMOTE CONTROL service.

This service gives our experts the possibility to operate the client's spectrometer which is far away with the means of REMOTE CONTROL. With the help of this service we are now able to fulfill diagnostics, to help in operating process and also to find and to eliminate disorders. It excludes the necessity of visiting you by our representative so as the transportation of the equipment to our office either.

This service gives the possibility to solve swiftly most of the problems which may occur while exploitation. You won't waste time to overcome difficulties: our expert will help you to eliminate them in on-line mode. It is necessary simply to activate the REMOTE CONTROL service and Contact Us (just call) if any disorders would reveal themselves. Our expert also can operate your spectrometer, receive spectra and give technical comments. The service sufficiently reduces the idle period of your equipment, helps to increase your experience in operating the spectrometer, simplifies your work in many cases.
